PLANET FITNESS LAWSUIT EXAMPLES OF ABUSE

Defenders of Planet Fitness' irresponsible policy to allow men into the women's locker room and showers have been claiming that such a policy does not put women and children at risk. They claim that this lawsuit is equating transgender individuals to criminals. This lawsuit is not an attack on individuals who claim to be transgender. The problem is that this policy is so broad and unenforceable, that it is ripe for abuse and enables rapists, pedophiles, and other deviants to commit criminal acts by taking advantage of such a policy. After a short search, the following are just a few examples of the type of abuse that has already occurred:

- SAN BERNARDINO CO., CA (2013) – A 46-year-old man cross-dressed as a woman to gain access to a women's dormitory and other female only facilities to take pictures of women with a cell phone hidden in his purse.
- OLYMPIA, WASHINGTON (2012) – A 45-year-old man, who self-identified as a woman, used all of the woman's facilities at the Evergreen State College swimming pool. He exposed himself to minor girls from the local area who would use the college's swimming pool.
- PORTLAND, OREGON (2011) – A convicted sex offender for offenses against children claimed to be a transgender woman and wore a dress to access areas where young girls would change, such as locker rooms and swimming pools.
- TORONTO, CANADA (2014) – A man claimed to be transgender to stay at a women's shelter where he then assaulted several women.
- PALMDALE, CALIFORNIA (2013) – A 33-year-old man was charged after allegedly dressing as a woman to secretly videotape women using the restroom at Macy's.
- COLUMBUS, OHIO (2014) – A man was claiming to be a woman to use a cell phone to take pictures of women using the restroom.
- EVERETT, WASHINGTON (2012) – A non-transgender man wore a bra and wig to gain entry to a women's bathroom at a local community college to take pictures and admitted to using the women's showers for sexual gratification.
- BIRMINGHAM, ENGLAND (2011) – A student wore a mask and wig to gain entry to a women's bathroom to spy on women and make recordings of a sexual nature.
- BERKELEY, CALIFORNIA (2010) – A man twice disguised himself as a woman to gain access to the showers of a U.C. Berkeley locker room to take pictures of women.
